This is a great time to bring your own gear. We will help set it up! There will be two-person canvas tents and cots available if needed. You will need own bedding. All other equipment will be provided by the staff.

Round Robin Discussing – Each instructor will show/tell you how they get ready to go camping.

How to Pack

Staying organized at your campsite is important for a variety of reasons. Knowing where to find your gear can help keep you safe in case of an emergency. Proper storage helps you avoid attracting wildlife to your site and habituating them to humans. Good camping storage ideas can also save you time, ensuring that you don't spend the bulk of your trip unpacking and repacking, unpacking, and repacking.

Meal Preparing

Without a doubt, the most stressful part of camping is the meal planning and grocery shopping. This is especially true if we are camping for more than just the weekend. To save you some sanity, learn how to plan meals plan to include exactly what you need....and nothing of what you don't.
